Mount Archibald Named for Agricultural Leader

The man who directs the extension of Canada's northern agricultural frontiers has been honored by the Geographic Board of Canada which recently gave his name to this Yukon mountain—Mount Archibald.

Shown here are the 8400-foot peak and Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director, Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, for whom it was named.

An outstanding leader in experimental agriculture, Dr. Archibald directs the operation of 27 experimental farms and stations, 13 sub-stations, four laboratories, 155 illustration stations and 52 district experiment sub-stations. In recent years the Experimental Farms Service has been expanded by the establishment of experimental sub-stations in both the Yukon and Northwest Territories for the study of northern agriculture.

Located at Latitude 60°, 45', 06", Longitude 137°, 51', 23", Mount Archibald overlooks the experimental sub-station at Mile 1019 on the Alaskan Highway.

P.F.R.A. HEADS IMPRESSED WITH VALLEY

W. L. Jacobson and C. M. Moore Visit Irrigation Dam in Rutland District

TOUR PROVINCE

Impressed with Engineering Feat During Inspection of B.M.I.D. Ditch

RUTLAND—Two officials of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act administration from Regina visited the Valley on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. They were W. L. Jacobson, secretary of the P.F.R.A. advisory council for Western Canada, and C. M. Moore, an irrigation engineer on the P.F.R.A. headquarters staff at Regina. Mr. Jacobson stated that they were including the Okanagan in a tour of Western Canada in connection with a soil conservation survey. They were met at Vernon by Dr. J. C. Wilcox, of Summerland Experimental Farm, who drove them through the Valley. On Wednesday afternoon they called on officials of the Association of B.C. Irrigation Districts, Rutland, A. W. Gray and D. McDougall, and discussed the associations' brief on the possible expansion of irrigation in the dry belt of B.C.

The visitors were taken to see the B.M.I.D. new ditch and intake on Mission Creek, and the two tunnels through which the water supply is carried. They were also interested in seeing the possible site of a storage dam, near the intake, and in commenting upon what he had seen, Mr. Moore expressed the view that it was a natural site and both officials were complimentary regarding the engineering feat accomplished in building the tunnels and the concrete main canal.

The road into the intake on Mission is a narrow twisting grade, with some hair-raising drops into the canyon below, at least for those who are accustomed to prairie roads, and Mrs. Moore, who also went on the trip, made the comment that next time she bought apples in Regina, she would think about some of the things B.C. fruit growers had to do in order to produce them.

"People on the prairie do not realize the difficulties to be overcome, and the expense involved in raising fruit in B.C.," she said. "They think you just plant a tree and let it grow."

After leaving Rutland, the party went to Kelowna, where they met C. C. Kelley, of the soil survey department of the provincial government, and on Thursday visited the Summerland Experimental Station, after which they planned to visit the Oliver project.

Commenting on the meeting of Irrigationists at Medicine Hat on May 10, Mr. Jacobson said that this meeting had arranged to call a convention at Lethbridge about July 12, to form a Western Canada Reclamation Association, and he thought that B.C. should be interested in such an organization.

Anxious Moment

You have probably heard of the absent-minded bridegroom-to-be. Not in Kelowna? Well, it can happen here, too!

Weeks of elaborate preparations almost went for nothing last week. With the wedding less than 24 hours off, that significant piece of paper, the wedding licence, vanished.

Fortunately, the young man, Ken Parks, searched through his personal effects—the ones he had left. He was in the midst of preparing to move from the boarding house at 901 Bernard Ave. Other boarders joined in the hunt. Finally the precious document was found in a rubbish heap in the yard where the young man had thrown out a lot of things he no longer wanted.

Mr. Parks and Miss Lyla Blackwood were married Saturday afternoon at First United Church and are now honeymooning at Mabel Lake.

TWO CONTEST REEVE'S SEAT AT PEACHLAND

PEACHLAND—A. E. Miller and C. O. Whinton, two fruit growers of this district, were nominated for the position of Reeve when nominations closed here last Friday, while C. F. Badley was chosen by acclamation to fill one of the two vacant council seats. The election for Reeve takes place next Wednesday.

The election was brought about by the resignation of Reeve A. J. Chidley who resigned two weeks ago due to ill health. Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Whinton resigned from the council in order to contest the vacant seat.

While there is still one vacant seat on the council, it is considered likely in some quarters, that the defeated candidate for Reeve may offer his services to complete the board.

INTERIOR I.W.A. THREATENING STRIKE VOTE

No Indication That Similar Action Will be Taken in Kelowna District

While Harold Pritchett, union district president of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.), threatened that a strike vote would be undertaken among interior lumbermill workers unless employers sincerely enter into negotiations in good faith, there is no indication that similar action will be taken in the Kelowna district, authoritative sources said this morning.

Some time ago the employees of the S. M. Simpson Co., Ltd., formed a union of their own and while they are endeavoring to seek bargaining rights, there has been no indication of strike talk. It was stated.

Last Saturday, Mr. Pritchett charged that negotiations conducted to date between the union and J. H. Ruddock, representing interior operators, have been "futile, useless and insulting to say the least."

"No Alternative"

"The I.W.A. has no alternative... but to break off negotiations and proceed immediately to report and conduct a strike vote among I.W.A. membership in the Interior of B.C.," he said in a statement.

Commenting on the union's announcement, Mr. Ruddock asked, "Are they going to live up to the ICA Act, or go out on strike again illegally?"

New provincial government legislation calling for a government supervised strike vote before a union calls a walkout is now in effect.

The I.W.A. said their proposal for a 40-hour week was "fatally rejected," and the interior spokesmen suggested instead that the present 44-hour week be boosted to 48 hours. Mr. Ruddock said he had asked the I.W.A. to consider the 48 hour week "on account of the shortness of the season."

He said it would enable the men to work longer hours and receive larger annual pay. The I.W.A. said Mr. Ruddock, "is" that union membership post $10. and with employers to guarantee fulfillment of the contract. The operators' spokesmen replied that no amount of the "bond" had been discussed.

Regular meeting of the Kelowna City Council will be held tonight at 8:00 p.m.

Few Residents Turn Out To Hear Progress Report On Building Ice Arena

FEW Kelowna citizens have utmost confidence in the members of the Kelowna and District War Memorial Committee, or else the hundreds of people who donated close to $100,000 toward the construction of a war memorial to perpetuate the memory of those who paid the Supreme Sacrifice, have adopted a "Let George Do It" attitude. These were the conclusions drawn following a public meeting held in the High School Auditorium last Friday night when only about 60 people attended the meeting called for the purpose of acquainting citizens with the latest developments in the building of an ice arena.

Presided over by Bob Seath, in the absence of A. K. Loyd, chairman of the War Memorial Committee, those who did attend the meeting showed keen interest in the progress to date and many questions were asked regarding the setting up of a permanent administration board, and of the arena, and for what purpose it would be used during the summer months.

Summarized briefly, the salient facts of the hour and a half meeting were:

That Kelowna ratepayers will shortly be asked to approve a $75,000 bylaw for the completion of the arena, payable back over a period of 20 years.

Total cost of the arena is expected to be in the neighborhood of $175,000.

S. M. Simpson Co., Ltd., is willing to waive the property on one month's notice.

Seating capacity will be slightly larger than Vernon arena.

The War Memorial Committee will incorporate the arena into the City of Kelowna by the Act in order to put the committee on a legal footing and to safeguard the money donated to the building fund.

And last but not least, high tribute was paid to the War Memorial Committee members who had devoted time and energy in making the campaign a success.

Ready in 1948

The arena will not be ready for ice hockey until the 1948 puck season. Building plans, which are ready for about three months, and actual construction is not expected to get underway until this fall.

Representatives of the Kelowna Box Lacrosse Association were at the meeting, and they strongly urged that provision be made for the installation of a wooden floor in the arena in order to take care of spring and summer sports.

It was pointed out, however, that the estimated $175,000 building costs covered only the shell of the arena, and that other improvements such as club rooms, lockers, etc., would have to be made at a later date. The box lacrosse floor will be one of the first "musts" after the arena is built, it was indicated.

It was emphasized that it will be necessary for local organizations to get behind the presentation of the $75,000 money bylaw to the ratepayers, which may be presented to the public in about six weeks' time.

When the war memorial campaign was launched during the fall of 1945, it was estimated the arena would cost $120,000, but a tentative bid of $200,000 was received, but the war memorial committee has pared this down to $175,000. It was felt it was not justified in going to the public again to make up the $75,000 balance, and for this reason the City Council was asked to consider issuing debentures for this amount. City Fathers approved the idea in principle a few weeks ago, and a bylaw will be drafted shortly for the presentation to ratepayer.

INSPECT CADETS

Capt. J. C. I. Edwards, C.B.E., R.C.N., will be the inspecting officer when the Kelowna Royal Canadian Sea Cadets are reviewed at the local armory at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 23.

Faint Voice Calling "Hello" Revives Hope Plane May Be Located

VANCOUVER—Mysterious messages with a faint voice calling "Hello—Hello" interspersed with the letters TCA, revived hopes today that the Trans-Canada Airliner, missing 20 days, might be found with one or more persons of the 15 aboard, alive.

It was reported to the R.C.A.F. here that the messages were heard Saturday night and Sunday on telegraph lines between Lillooet and Ashcroft, 130 miles northwest of here.

The airplane vanished without a trace shortly before midnight, February 28, with 12 passengers and a crew of three. The static prevented a clear reception of messages, but there was a distinct "Hello—Hello" and some reference to the TCA. They were first thought to be the work of some Saturday night reveler cutting in on a line with a linesman's telephone, but another message was heard Sunday, and investigation was started immediately.

ATOMIC ENERGY PARLEY ENDS

HAMILTON—The peace time applications of atomic energy is expected to be accelerated by Canada's first disclosures of the discoveries of nuclear chemistry made at a conference which concluded at McMaster University here Saturday. Shift Classes Will be Started in High School Next Fall—Tennis Club Holds Emergency Meeting to Review Negotiations—School Board Offers to Exchange Property and Also Pay $8,000—Tennis Club Members Endorse Action of Negotiating Committee—Would Prefer Property on Harvey Avenue—Both High Schools Crowded to Capacity—Impossible to Get New School Built in Time For Fall Term

Settlement Appears Closer

THE long drawn out dispute between the Kelowna Tennis Club and Kelowna School District No. 23 over what price the board should pay for the property it wishes to use for the proposed high school, appeared closer to settlement after Sunday's emergency meeting of the tennis club.

President S. R. Davis read a letter from the school board which offered to exchange a piece of property on Rose Avenue as well as $8,000 to finish the courts, build a fence and construct a pavilion. The alternative offer is $12,000 cash, with the tennis club providing its own site. The meeting endorsed the action of the committee that has been negotiating for the tennis club, and requested it to investigate the possibility of obtaining a piece of property on Harvey Avenue, if the taxes are not too high.

Negotiations between the school board and the tennis club have been going on since the ratepayers approved the $105,000 bylaw in December, 1945, for the construction of a new high school. For nearly two years school accommodation has been at a premium, and this morning E. W. Barton, secretary of School District No. 23 said that school classes will be operating in two shifts in the high school next September. He said it is probable that the classes would run from 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. "It's our only alternative," Mr. Barton said, remarking that it will be impossible to have the new high school completed by the time the fall term commences. "Every available bit of space is being used, including the auditorium, laboratory, cafeteria—places which should never be used to give instruction."

Mr. Barton said there are over 870 students attending the local high school. "The elementary school is also bursting at the seams, and provision must be made for two more class rooms in this school by next term," he declared.

Review Negotiations

The large number of tennis players who attended Sunday's meeting, reviewed the negotiations that had been going on between the club and the school board. Before the meeting adjourned, it was suggested that the negotiating committee go into the cost of making and finishing grounds similar to those of the present tennis club before any decision is reached regarding the school board offer.

Use of the club's present three courts on Harvey Ave. for the 1947 and 1948 seasons is included in the offer from the school board, it is understood. Another special meeting will be held on Sunday to hear the report of the committee. All members are urged to attend.

A year ago the Kelowna School Board offered the tennis club $4,000 for outright purchase of the property. This the club declined, pointing out that it would cost an estimated $11,000 alone to construct six courts. This price did not include buildings or improvements.

Plans are now being prepared for the enlargement of the bank's Kelowna office, and it is hoped that work will get underway shortly. A new type for operating ledgers, will also be installed, and this is expected to speed up service considerably.

Mr. MacRae stated that Kelowna had again been chosen for the conference because of its central location and satisfactory arrangements for accommodation.

Following the conference, the local manager, G. N. Douglas and Mrs. Douglas were hosts to the visitors at the cocktail hour prior to dinner in the Royal Anne. The guest speaker was Gordon Cockshutt, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, while R. P. MacLean, president of the Kelowna Board of Trade, welcomed the visitors.

Mr. MacRae arrived in Kelowna on Friday to visit the local branch and sub-agencies at Peachland, Westbank and Rutland, and to meet members of the staff.

He has completed a tour of the Kootenays with W. G. Murrin and J. A. Humbird, British Columbia directors of the Bank of Montreal. The trip was arranged principally to attend the official opening of the enlarged and modernized premises of the bank in Trail, and also visit the bank branches in the Kootenays. The plants of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Ltd., at Trail and Kimberley were also inspected.

Delegates from Oliver, Penticton, Vernon and Kamloops also attended the meeting. Kelowna delegates were Roy Hunt, president of the Kelowna Jaycees, its first vice-president, Carl Schmok, corresponding secretary, Doug Monteith, directors R. G. (Jim) Whillis, Bob Knox and Doug Johnston, Wilf Reuger and Mr. Chapin.

Gross Revenue from Lake Ferry in April Highest On Record, Figures Show

RECORDS are still being broken, ferry figures for the month of April show. Last month's revenue and traffic was the highest for any April in the history of the Okanagan Lake ferry.

Indication of the upswing in traffic is the fact that during the past month when the ferry was operating on an 18-hour basis, the ferry was used considerably more than during the record April of last year when the 24-hour service was inaugurated.

Nearly 3,000 more passenger cars were transported in April, 1947, than in the same month a year ago. Statistics for last months also showed a big increase over the preceding month. March, 1947. Figures for March: passenger cars, 6,404; freight, 19,347; freight, 945.7 tons; revenue, $4,230.20.

With the return early this month of the 24-hour service, the former record mark for May in expected to fall cars, 8,554; passengers, 24,378; freight, 1,383.4 tons. For 1946—passenger cars, 5,637; passengers, 10,531; freight, 855.4 tons.

Statistics for last months also showed a big increase over the preceding month. March, 1947. Figures for March: passenger cars, 6,404; freight, 19,347; freight, 945.7 tons; revenue, $4,230.20.

Memorial Arena Plans

On Friday evening the Kelowna and District War Memorial Committee held a public meeting in the Junior High Auditorium to make a complete progress report to the citizens of the district and to obtain public reaction to its proposed plans and methods of future procedure. A scant half-a-hundred persons attended.

The attendance, of course, indicated that the public generally is satisfied with the work of the committee as reported in this newspaper over the past few months. Presumably, it is content to leave the matter in the hands of the capable committee. Nevertheless, this attitude does not alter the fact that the attendance was a disgrace. That had should have been packed. There has been much discussion about the need for an arena in clubs and at meetings and on the street corners for the past five years, and yet only fifty persons, including some of the busiest men in the city, were able to find the time to attend that meeting and give their support and suggestions to the committee.

If any person had any fault to find with the plans or if they had any "beef" to make, the meeting was the place to do it. Those who failed to attend have no right, now or in the future, to say one word of criticism against the slightest detail of the committee's plans. They have had an opportunity for open discussion and they failed to take advantage of it. In so doing, they have lost the right to criticize now.

The meeting was a harmonious one. It was well organized and the various phases of the report were given clearly and without reserve by various committee members. It was evident that the committee, during the past few months, had put much study into the construction problem and the plans for the living memorial. Broadly speaking, the plans met with the full approval of the meeting and this was made evident by the moving from the floor of a complimentary resolution which praised the work of the committee and asked the present members to carry on the activities.

The plans call for an arena with an attendance capacity of roughly three thousand. There are some who feel that this is not large enough, although they did not argue the point very strongly on Friday evening. The fact remains that this capacity is greater than is provided at Vernon, Nelson, Trail, New Westminster, Nanaimo and, indeed, most of the other cities in Canada, excluding, of course, the large cities.

Obviously it is better to have your arena comfortably filled at most of the regular events than to have it so large that the normal attendance leaves many seats vacant and enthusiasm is killed. It is better to have to turn people away a few nights in the season than to have the normal attendance rattling around among empty seats during the greater part of the season. Empty seats do not generate enthusiasm; a crowded auditorium does.

The seating capacity as planned would seem quite adequate for this area. Do those who advocate a larger capacity believe that more than one person in every three in the City of Kelowna will attend the hockey games? And yet there will be accommodation for every third person in the city. Do they believe that one person in every seven in the Kelowna city and rural area will be regular attendants? If so, (and the people of this area are not THAT hockey enthusiastic) there will be room for those to attend. Three thousand accommodation should be quite sufficient, excepting for the odd playoff game or the occasional unusual feature. But arenas are not built for those one or two odd occasions.

The committee has not drafted its plans in any loose manner. The best advice obtainable has been sought; investigations have been made as far east as Montreal; N.H.L. officials have been consulted. The plans have been prepared after careful consideration of all phases and on the basis of all persons in a position to know anything about arena construction.

The meeting on Friday night indicated to the committee that it was the public desire to have construction proceeded with as quickly as possible, consistent with the obtaining of good materials and reasonable cost. The committee knows what it is doing; it is composed of responsible men. It is performing an arduous task without remuneration and there is every reason to believe that as soon as it is possible Kelowna will have an arena without a peer in British Columbia and, attached to it, a memorial shrine of beauty and dignity fully in keeping with the high purpose for which it is intended.

Parking Violations

Last week the Kelowna City Council received a letter from the B.C. Automobile Association pointing out that that body had received complaints from one of its members who resented the fact that he had been fined here for parking longer than one hour on Bernard Avenue. It is to be hoped that the City Council will pay little attention to the letter.

On the morning in question three out of town drivers were in court and all three were travellers. One of them admitted, when pleading guilty, that he had been parked on Bernard Avenue for eighteen hours and a second thought he had been there about twelve. In other words, they were deliberately breaking the parking regulations and trading upon the fact that they had an out-of-the-city licence and thus "might get away with it". There is slight reason to waste any sympathy upon such cases.

There is no evidence that since the one-hour parking was instituted any legitimate tourists have been disturbed. The police have been so instructed and there is no evidence to give rise to the fear that this city may be obtaining a bad name with the tourists through the activities of its police department.

On the other hand, the case of commercial travellers is somewhat different. These men visit a city frequently enough to be fully aware of local regulations; certainly that condition applied in the three cases drawn to the City Council's attention, one man living at Okanagan Landing. Moreover, members of the fraternity are daily faced with the problem of parking regulations in various towns and through the course of time become a trifle callous about their observance. They have an out-of-town licence and will get away with a warning for incorrect parking nine out of ten of the times they are checked. They should have little complaint about the odd time when they are "picked up". Certainly no man has reason to complain when he has parked in a one-hour zone for twelve or eighteen hours. Moreover, this habit of taking a chance on being picked up is something of a practice. The fine usually goes on the expense account, and that the local case is no isolated one, was shown in police court that day through the request of one of the men for a special receipt in order that he might be reimbursed by his company. Perhaps, if companies would adopt the policy of not paying the fines of their travellers, the men would become a little more careful.

Commercial travellers should be treated in exactly the same manner as residents of this district. As, indeed, they are being. At least two members of the City Council have been in court and fined for exactly the same reason as the man who protested to the B.C. Automobile Association. Travellers are businessmen who come to this or any other city frequently enough to be fully aware of the regulations.

On the other hand, the legitimate tourist visitor is something else again. There is every reason to give him all the "breaks" and this is being done here. At the suggestion of His Worship the Mayor, following a very pleasant and illuminating experience in Vernon, the Kelowna Board of Trade now has in the course of production an attractive sticker which the local police will use on the cars of tourists who have broken the traffic regulations. The sticker is a friendly warning and, it is hoped, will create goodwill. The "B.C. Apple Girl" is being used as an attention compeller.

Face and Fill

"Butter Prices Increase," "Cheese Prices Up," "Beef Up" ... "and the cow jumped over the moon."

Housewives are fussing for sliced bread, although the ready-cut stuff has a monotonous regularity entirely lacking in the woman-cut slices.

Hereafter Pullman cars may be numbered rather than named. To remember that your car is Pullman 178,962 will be harder than to remember your car was Petunia or Lake Como.

On the moon an object would weigh but one-sixth of what it weighs on earth. What a place for the reducing crowd!

r.p.m.'s column

I WAS SITTING at the coffee counter the other morning and as a friend came along and took a seat beside me, I remarked, "It's a nice day." "Oh, I feel fine," my friend said, blissfully unaware of the fact that I had never even thought that he might not be well. He had heard me say something and supposed I was started me speculating about "conversation openers."

GIVE THEM A THOUGHT. They are lame and useless and, for my part, I am tired of them. Take that how-are-you approach. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the asker does not care how the other chap is and, if he thought for a moment that he would not care, he would probably never use that opening approach to conversation as it would bring forth an answer embodying all the other fellow's ills and pains and aches. He would then have to listen to it and show polite interest while all the time thinking that he felt just as bad as the other fellow. He probably would by the time the narrative ended.

FOR MY PART, I think it is high time we invented some new conversation openers. Let's forget the weather and the state of our health and find a subject which does not lend itself to stereotyped replies. If we must stick to the old theme, let's vary it a little instead of using the how-are-you approach, let's switch it to how-am-I. That would give the other chap an opening for which he has been waiting probably for years. At least, instead of the "fine," "pretty good," or "never better" retort which is inevitable now, we might hear that we don't look so hot, that we are looking older, that he has circles under our eyes, that our hair is untidy or that our tie is crooked. At least we might learn something to our advantage. On the other hand, of course, we might hear something which might make us squirm a little. We might be told we are the fathead that the other chaps always suspected, or we might be told off in the grand manner. Maybe it might be good for us. In any event it would be a change from the useless, set replies to the present conversational openers.

Our Town

by JACK SCOTT

A GREAT MAN

"I represent the weekly newspapers of Canada," Mrs. Chaney. We would like to get the story of your life, your inventions of your late husband, Chauncey. I regret bothering you in your bereavement but ...

"Not at all," Mr. Scott. It's time the whole world knows the debt it owes Chauncey Chaney."

"Splendid. He began his career humbly?" "Yes. His first inventions were the breakable shoe lace, fountain pens that leak and Pullman car windows that won't open. Chauncey always felt they were among his most successful."

"Indeed they are, Mrs. Chaney." "It was the success of the Pullman car window which encouraged him to invent the upper berth. That was about the time he was preparing to introduce men's garters that slip, windshield that only the women aren't raining and jack-knives with blades that won't open."

"All notable achievements." "Perhaps, but not satisfying to a man of Mr. Chaney's genius. His full talents began to express themselves when he began his successful experiments with furnace doors too small to put things in and cellophane wrappers that won't come off."

"He was encouraged?" "Ecstatic. For several months he spent his time solely on patented can-openers that won't open cans. Many of them are still widely used today."

"Yes. We have several in our house." "Precisely, Mr. Scott. I expect that you have a number of window blinds that keep coming farther down when you try to raise them?"

"Several." "All Chauncey's idea. That was about the time he was perfecting putting pens in new shoes. He also causes drafts, and the system of perfecting the ketchup bottle that gives only in spurts."

"He wasn't by any chance the inventor of telephones that only ring when you're in the bathtub was he?" "No, Mr. Scott, and he always regretted it. He did, however, invent telephone cords that curl up on the paper tops on milk bottles that can only be opened properly with an ax. He also produced a number of collapsible card-tables that only collapse when they are in use, and the keys on sardine cans that break after the first turn."

"Exactly, Mr. Scott. The same comment has frequently been made of Chauncey's many ingenious ideas that refuse to give up the ice, uncut pages of crucial places in the history of novels and shower baths that suddenly run cold."

"I was going to ask you about that, Mrs. Chaney. Did your husband, by any chance, invent the faucet that drips and keeps you awake all night?"

"Naturally. But he, himself, considered that to be of second importance to his invention of water taps which have to be kept turned on with one hand. He used to remark that nobody had ever mastered that invention."

"How right he was. And, if you'll forgive me, Mrs. Chaney, how did your late husband die?" "He was working on a new folding deck chair, poor fellow. It was intended to be more completely confusing than all his previous inventions."

"He was caught in it," Mrs. Chaney?" "Oh, dear, no, Mr. Scott. You see, it turned on him and mauled him to death before help could be called."

"Thank you, Mrs. Chaney. May he rest in peace." (Copyright, The Vancouver Sun)

SUPER NYLON ZIPPERS NOW BEING MADE

Women whose tempers are apt to fray because of stubborn slide-fasteners, will be pleased to learn that zippers are now unaffected by all common varieties of dry cleaning solvents, ironing and washing, are now being made of nylon plastics.

Tests have shown these new types of fasteners resist heat up to 400 degrees Fahrenheit—temperatures considerably higher than those used in ironing any fabric. In washable garments, they withstand boiling water, and are not injured through an ordinary wringer. Nylon, it is claimed, produces an exceptionally strong zipper as it forms a permanent bond with the fabric when it is injection molded. Because of the plastic's light weight and high flexibility, zippers made from it help give a trim fit to the garment and are ideal for use on cheer fabrics such as chiffon, marquisette and georgette. Eventual use of nylon zippers in handbags, luggage and novelty items is foreseen.

A present nylon zippers are being manufactured in ivory and black, but it is planned to include a range of popular shades that can be matched with the fabric or contrasted for decorative purposes.

While available only in the United States at the moment, nylon zippers are expected to appear on the Canadian market before long.

SCHOOL LUNCHROOM BENEFITS SCHOLARS

At St. Joseph's School, North Sydney, N.S., the children used to eat their picnic lunches in the basement. Now, thanks to the teaching staff and parents, getting together, and raising $200 from sales and teas, and $500 in contributions, the children have an attractive cafeteria, cloakroom, kitchenette and junior library instead of the dreary basement. Each day 20 children—more on stormy days have their noon-day meals there.

SPRING

The last snow disappears from the hollows... the streams rise, sink, run clear again... buds sprout and burst... the land dries... field work starts again... spring plowing, harrowing, seeding...

Spring work calls for labour and money which will not yield returns until harvest. In the meantime the Royal Bank is ready with seasonal loans to pay for labour, seed, fertilizer, equipment and improvements to land and buildings. Your local manager is always glad to see you.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S Social Welfare Programme

PART I

British Columbia's social legislation is designed to promote the welfare of children, individuals and families, suffering from various social needs. Some of the most important Acts are:

SOCIAL ASSISTANCE ACT

Social allowances, general medical services, drugs and other types of assistance may be granted under the terms of this act. The act has been designed to make legal provision for those who cannot be granted assistance under other more specific acts, with the result that no one who is eligible should be denied necessities essential to maintain or assist in maintaining a reasonably normal health existence.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE ACT

Under the terms of this act, provision is made for the granting of an allowance to mothers with children under the age of sixteen years, and under certain conditions under eighteen years, who are widows or who cannot be supported by the husband for certain specific reasons.

OLD-AGE PENSION ACT

This act enables the province to make provision for persons seventy years of age and over who may be eligible under the Federal Act and Regulations. In addition the province provides a cost of living bonus or allowance. Persons seventy years of age and over who are not eligible under the provisions of the Federal Act may be granted comparable assistance under the "Social Assistance Act".

CHILD WELFARE

Child Welfare legislation includes the Protection of Children Act, Children of Unmarried Parents Act, Adoption Act, Boys' Industrial School Act, Girls' Industrial Schools Act and the Juvenile Delinquency Act, and entails the protection and care of dependent or neglected children; placement of children in adoption homes; and care and treatment of delinquent children.

British Columbia's programme is the most outstanding and the most generous in Canada. The services available to those in need, at our district offices in unorganized territory and in municipalities, are the most comprehensive in the Dominion.

NEW MEMBERS ON WESTBANK WATER BOARD

Water Users Will Buy Two Acres of Land to Make Way For Second Cistern

WESTBANK—A Domestic Water Users Meeting was held in Westbank Community Hall on Wednesday, May 14. There were many discussions during the lengthy meeting, and a motion was passed to add three more members to the Domestic Water Users Board. The new members are M. G. Hicks, A.

L. Currie, and J. Seltenrich. It was decided to buy the two acres on which the present spring and cistern are located, from A. H. Davidson for $1,500, as this would allow for a right of way into the spring and property for the much needed second cistern. The buying in of the present shares and forming a Co-operative Water System was widely discussed. It was also decided to eventually put a 4 inch pipe line down the main road, which could be used in case of fire. Owing to the many problems presented and the lateness of the hour many final decisions had to be postponed.

Experts Outline Rules For Apple, Soft Fruit Storage at U.S. Parley

FRUIT representatives in the State of Washington are just as anxious as B.C. Tree Fruit officials to improve the quality of apples. This was the keynote of the convention held recently in Yakima, Wash., when 150 representatives of fruit storage and processing companies attended a four-day convention and discussed the new technical developments in fruit handling.

Some of the leading authorities of the fruit industry addressed the meetings, including Edwin Smith, U.S.D.A. man from Wenatchee, who spoke on handling and storage of apples; T. R. Wright, U.S. Department of Agriculture, who devoted his talk to fruit diseases; Geo. W. Boutillier, manager of the Merchants' Cold Storage and Warehousing Co., of Providence, R.I., apple storage management; Prof. C. T. Onsdorff, Oregon State College, quality maintenance of canneries pears; Prof. Frank Allen, University of California, storage of stone fruits; and Prof. Henry Hartman, Oregon State College, storage of winter pears.

In addition to the regular schedule, Mr. Boutillier discussed ideas of eastern-market receivers and shippers on reception of Washington apples, and Dr. D. V. Fisher, of the fruit research station in Summerland, discussed work on controlling atmosphere storage. Education motion pictures of eastern fruit handling were also included.

Mr. Boutillier had interviewed men in the eastern markets and also other brokers and handlers prior to coming to Washington and had found intense interest in more and better fruit—but particularly fruit free of bruises and packed and handled in the manner of previous days. A general survey had revealed that damage has increased from about five boxes per car to approximately 100 boxes per car. Bruising shows up in the retail markets and causes further loss. Despite these present difficulties, the demand for western fruit continues and premium prices are available for the finest packs.

In his discussion of storage management Mr. Boutillier drew on 33 years of experience in Providence covering methods by which his company has been able to succeed in holding business despite severe reduction in apple production caused by the hurricane in the late 1930's. He stressed the need for constant research and improvement in practice as well as close contact with research institutions and agencies. Immensity of fruit production in the Northwest impressed him, he said, as did likewise the friendliness and hospitality of the people here.

CITY BUSINESS WOMEN VISIT PENTICTON

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Penticton took down its hair and relaxed with their Kelowna guests on Friday, when they turned their regular monthly dinner meeting into a Hard Times and Come-as-You-Are party, at the Gyro Hall's Cedar Room. Some of the members were almost unrecognizable in battered straw hats, plaid shirts and torn slacks, pig tails and red noses. The hayseed motif predominated. After a delicious dinner, the evening was spent in contests, musical chairs, square dances and ordinary dancing. Miss Margaret Ruud was in charge of the excellent entertainment and Mrs. Fred Burton was the pianist. Mrs. Elsie McCleave has been re-elected as president and will represent the club at the provincial convention at Chilliwack on May 28.

Going at their best lick in the last inning, Kelowna Klippers failed by a razor's edge to tie and possibly win their opening game in the Central Okanagan (Twilight) League at City Park, Thursday, and lost out to the Red Caps 7-5.

With coldish weather keeping the crowds away, both teams put up a good show, with Rutland earning the win. Kelowna led off with two runs in the first, but Rutland got them back in the second, added one more in the third and from then on was never headed.

The visitors built up a 7-3 lead, going into the last half of the final inning, the game was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness—and things looked even darker for the Klippers. It didn't help the feeling any when the first two men up flied out.

But two errors by the Red Caps put two men on and they were brought in by short-stop Clarence Gourlie, with his second hit of the game. Ring clouted out a double to chase Gourlie to third.

Manager-player Paul Bach figured that was all for Fred Koga, and pointed out the mound to Mit Koga, who up to that time had been playing a fair game at the bat. Koga made five pitches, and Joe Mildenberger, on whom the Klippers had their shirts, went down swinging.

Three new men appeared in the Klipper lineup. Mildenberger, Lon Godfrey and Harry Franklin. Mildenberger and Godfrey tried out for the Red Sox but failed to get in. Franklin is a newcomer here, working in a law office before returning to Varsity in the fall.

Rutland too had several new faces when some of the regular players failed to show up. One of them was the pitcher, Fred Krogel, a veteran ball player from the Prairies. He chucked some nice curves and had a fair amount of control left. He attended two of the initial practices in Kelowna when the Sox and Klippers were being formed, but no one paid any attention to him.

Klippers will try to get into the winning ways when they go to Wood Lake Tuesday evening (tomorrow) for a scheduled game. Next home game will be at City Park on Thursday, with Oyanma Green Caps providing the opposition.

MOVE TO AID DISABLED WAR VETS IN CITY

George S. Mahon, district supervisor of disability rehabilitation for the Department of Veterans Affairs, spoke to representatives of the Board of Trade, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of Kelowna at a meeting held in the Board of Trade Rooms Saturday evening. "Is there a future for handicrafts in the Okanagan?" was the subject of his talk.

The meeting was called to coincide with the visit to Kelowna of a D.V.A. travelling rehabilitation team, touring the interior of B.C. from Lytton, Princeton, Oliver and up through the Valley. The team includes George Ross, regional superintendent of rehabilitation; John Matheson, district supervisor of welfare; Jack Woods, training counselor; Archie Paton, regional public relations officer; and Mr. Mahon, all from Vancouver.

As a result of the meeting, a special committee to organize a handicrafts and home industry exhibit in Kelowna to stimulate interest in these crafts, was appointed, under the chairmanship of J. G. Morrison of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Mahon treated the subject from the point of view of providing employment for disabled veterans, who because of disabilities cannot readily be absorbed into normal industrial enterprises. He said that, although co-operation of employers in hiring disabled veterans has been very good, there will always be at least five per cent who will fall into the above category.

The disability may be such that medically a full workday is not advisable as in the case of someone who is recovering from tuberculosis, during the period when he is building up "work tolerance." A full day's work might easily cause reactivation.

Loss of skill in the "light trades" might make it necessary for economic reason, for a veteran to take on work in heavy basic industry, and consequently aggravate his disability, and in the case of someone who is recovering from tuberculosis, during the period when he is building up "work tolerance." A full day's work might easily cause reactivation.

"The problem of the disabled civilian is even greater," said Mr. Mahon, "because he does not have the advantage of the rehabilitation facilities given to casualties in DVA hospitals." He felt that there was a field in handicrafts which would give an outlet for skills now lying dormant, and in consequence, a degree of financial security gained by the efforts of the individual rather than from social assistance.

"A start has been made in Kelowna by enterprising individuals, using waste products from the districts basic industry, to fashion costume jewelry, which is in demand on the tourist market," said Mr. Mahon.

Marketing facilities for handicrafts were discussed and it was revealed that the National Council of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild wishes to cooperate in this regard. A representative from its Montreal office will visit B.C. this summer to advise on ways and means of developing and marketing B.C. handicrafts on a broader scale.

Mr. Mahon has found that the Kelowna Rehabilitation Committee is the most progressive of any that he had contacted during his tour through B.C. largely due to the enterprise of O. St. P. Aitkens and H. G. M. Gardner. G. C. Oswell, as veterans' officer, has been very cooperative with the rehabilitation committee.

Explore Site for New Okanagan Power Supply

IN ITS search for adequate additional sources of electrical power to serve the Okanagan, main line and adjacent territories, the British Columbia Power Commission this week announced resumption of a program of exploration that opens exciting possibilities for development in an area tributary to Vernon.

S. R. Weston, chairman of the commission has confirmed the fact that a final survey of the potential power site at Whatsan Lake is now being undertaken by a staff headed by G. P. Moe, an engineer in the employ of the commission.

This follows a preliminary survey conducted under Mr. Moe last year and includes detailed topography and diamond drill borings to secure reliable information on foundations. As much as 30,000 horsepower could be developed in the first stage.

Whatsan Lake is situated about 50 miles east of Vernon near the Monashee highway to the Kootenays. A power site, if constructed, would involve tunnelling through rock from the lake to the Arrow Lakes valley. A feature would be the huge "head" of water that could be obtained without high costs.

Such construction would probably entail an expenditure of $3,000,000. The survey will be completed in from one to two months.

With the recent acquisition of the Kamloops power system, the commission has potential market for considerable blocks of power.

As part of the plan to provide extensive new integrated services to the interior, the commission has completed a location survey for a high voltage line between Vernon and Kamloops.

In a statement this week, Mr. Weston said: "The British Columbia Power Commission has a party presently surveying in the vicinity of the potential power site at Whatsan Lake. A year ago the Commission made a preliminary survey of this power site as a possible source of power for the North Okanagan and Kamloops district. Owing to the impossibility of obtaining cement and other building materials, without retarding the progress on projects already under way, and pending the acquisition of the electrical operation in Kamloops, which the Commission took over January 1 last, work in connection with another major power development has been delayed.

"With the acquisition of the Kamloops system it has become apparent that the Commission now has a potential market in the North Okanagan and Kamloops areas for a considerable block of power, both for consumers now connected to its existing grid, or for several new potential rural consumers in the two areas. The Commission is therefore looking into various alternative sources of power supply with a view to making a recommendation to the Government at an early date, asking for authority to proceed with further power development for this important interior section of the Province.

"The survey now under way includes detailed topography and diamond drilling to obtain reliable information on foundation conditions. The power site at Whatsan Lake is estimated at 30,000 h.p. The field survey will require from one to two months.

"The Commission has completed the location survey for a high voltage transmission line between Vernon and Kamloops and is developing plans for an integrated transmission system in the Okanagan, Kamloops and adjoining areas."

TIMELY RECIPES

THE OLD HEN GETS IN A STEW

Chicken has become a frequent "must" on Canadian menus. It is the most versatile of meats and may be served with the simple, economical meal or for "company" dinners. Chicken has few equals when it comes to delicious flavor and appetite appeal.

The time of year is almost at hand when the old birds will be culled from the chicken flocks. These birds may be used in several ways. They may be steamed, stewed, fricasseed or canned for later use.

These older birds are prepared as for roasting, but require a long, slow cooking using moist heat to soften and make tender the tough connective tissue. Chickens cooked in this manner will lose some of their juice and flavor, but this is regained when the broth is served as gravy with the meat.

Fowl is usually cut into serving pieces before stewing, and then placed in a kettle, half-filled with lightly salted water. It should be simmered, covered, until the meat is tender. It should never boil. The pieces should be turned occasionally to ensure even cooking throughout. A tablespoon of vinegar added to the water helps to make the meat more tender. It is sometimes necessary to replenish the water during the cooking period. A young fowl will require from 2-3 hours to cook tender.

Fricasseeing is another method of cooking fowl. The bird may be cut into serving pieces, rolled in flour and browned on all sides in hot fat. Then simmered in a small quantity of water or tomato juice.

If stewer fowl is to be served cold, it should be allowed to cool for an hour or more in the broth—the meat will be more moist. Three to four cups of cooked meat will be obtained from a four-five pound chicken.

There are many ways in which the meat from stewed or steamed chicken may be used in appetizing combinations. The home economists of the Consumer Section Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest chicken shortcake, chicken pie, or chicken croquettes if you like it served hot. For those who like it cold, a chicken salad, sandwich or jellied aspic may be appealing.

MANY FACE FAST DRIVING CHARGE

Several motorists were fined last week for speeding through the recently-restricted school zone on Pender Street, near Burne Ave. Many of the offenders said they did not see the signs. Police Magistrate H. H. Angle told them the signs had been up since May 7.

Fined $5 and costs were: R. S. Burch, R. W. Smith, R. M. Wilson, Lyman Dooley, Nick Bonzer, Lionel D. Hubbard, and A. J. Gardner.

On the same charge in city police court, sentence was suspended for O. F. Sandcroft and he was bound over in the sum of $25 to keep the peace for 30 days.

Two more appeared in city police court Saturday morning, Mrs. Doris Turton and E. J. Grawson. The latter said the signs were not readily noticeable and suggested a yellow line be drawn across the street to warn motorists approaching the zone. Magistrate Angle replied he would forward the suggestion to the city.

Many Volunteer Helpers Beautify Church Grounds at O.K. Mission

Names of Fallen Will be Placed on Brass Plate at St. Andrew's Church

By Wm. BAILEY

OKANAGAN MISSION—Quite a large undertaking in connection with St. Andrew's Anglican Church is now nearing completion. Inspired by a two hundred dollar gift from a well-known couple, the men and boys of the church have spent several weeks working on the water supply, and R. H. King as a back log, the church committee, under the direction of Ronald Davison and Hugh Dunlop, proceeded to get things done. These two men organized all the members into working groups and the work has continued until everything they set out to do has been accomplished.

A Lichgate, which is a Memorial to members who gave their lives in World War II has been erected. Inside the lych gate is a mahogany plaque, inscribed "1939-1945," and within the church is a brass plate bearing the names of the fallen.

J. H. Horn and St. George Baldwin were the working architects on the lych gate. Ken Shepherd took charge of the mahogany plaque for the carving, and the Mission people are grateful to his father, Dr. Shepherd, who is doing the work.

George Goldsmith took charge of the well and pumping system and it was wired for electricity by A. Drake. Wilbur H. Reid and the boys who work for him, laid a wide concrete sidewalk from the gate to the church. A new picket fence, with a service gate was constructed and painted.

A great number of men and boys helped with the landscaping, and topsoil was laid on by the use of many trucks and many shovels. I. Crossley assisted greatly in this work. A. Kenneth R. Young helped the lumber for all the projects. Shrubs and trees were donated by many interested members and Mr. Renfrew, Sr., presented two imported Blue Spruce trees which will be very lovely in a short time.

The rector, the Ven. Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole, is well pleased with the results of these several weeks' work, and everyone is grateful to the men who gave up a great deal of their time in the accomplishment of the project.

ARGUE OVER ATOMIC PLANT

HARTWELL, Berkshire, England—(CP)—Chilton and Hartwell, parishes between which lies the atomic energy station here, both claim the station should lie wholly within their boundaries in order to enhance tax values.

Chilton has asked the Berkshire County Council to revise the inter-parish boundary to include the whole station in the parish because its headquarters already are in Chilton. Hartwell parish—inside which is most of the station grounds—has protested against such revision and parish leaders describe it as "an attempted smash-and-grab raid."

Chilton property is now assessed at £2,083 ($8,332) and Hartwell property at £23,661.

David Knooihuizen, member of the Kelowna Motorcycle Club, was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty in city police court May 17 to the charge of carrying a passenger in front of him. The accused told Police Magistrate H. H. Angle he was teaching a young woman to operate a motorcycle and asked, "How else should I teach her?"

"Do just as they did in the army. Put her behind you," replied the magistrate as he waived costs.

For overstaying the one hour parking limit on downtown streets, R. P. Walrod was fined $2.50 and costs in city police court May 15.

VERNON SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 22 faces a new problem in its $300,000 building program—the matter of securing title to the lands on which they plan to build new accommodation. Although no immediate solution was suggested at the trustees' meeting last week, Chairman P. S. Sterling will approach the City Council to discuss ways and means of overcoming the difficulty.

VERNON SCOUT OFFICIALS last week expressed regret and indignation that the trip to France for the International Scout Jamboree is cancelled for the Canadian Scouts owing to lack of shipping space. Tom Davis, patrol leader of the 1st Vernon Troop, had been chosen to represent the interior at this jamboree. Although he will not make the trip he still has the honor of possessing the high qualification that made him the choice of the selection committee.

VERNON JAYCEES WERE ACCEPTED into the national body of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last week when Roy Hunt, president of the Kelowna club, presented the Vernon president, R. G. Birch, with a club charter. The presentation was made on behalf of Paul Laframboise, Dominion president. Mr. Hunt said that Jaycees have three obligations: self development; community betterment and fellowship. Speaking of community betterment, he said one can see on every corner something that should be done. Five members of the Kelowna Jaycees attended the meeting. They were: Mr. Hunt, Ken Harding, second vice-president; Gus Arndt, who was the first to receive the 100 per cent attendance award; Les Wilson and Wilf Reuger.

G. O. HOLMES POSTMASTER AT WESTBANK

Succeeds E. C. Paynter Who Has Been in Charge of Post Office Since 1920

WESTBANK—The retirement of E. C. Paynter as Postmaster of the Westbank Post Office, which became effective on May 15, culminated a service of many years as postmaster in the Okanagan Valley. Mr. Paynter started the first Post Office in East Kelowna in 1909, and named the office East Kelowna, with the approval of the late W. R. Pooley.

After the first World War, Mr. Paynter returned to the Valley and became Postmaster of the Westbank Post Office in 1920, upon the resignation of A. Nichol, and has been in charge for the past 26 years. George O. Holmes, who has been the postmaster assistant for the past two years, has been named the new postmaster.

NEW RECORD IN TOURISTS IS EXPECTED

Thousands of Inquiries Pour Into Government Travel Bureau at Ottawa

OTTAWA—(CP)—The land of "vacations unlimited," Canada this year looks forward to what Trade Minister James Mackinnon has termed the greatest tourist influx in her history.

Last year 21,000,000 United States visitors spent more than $220,000,000 in the Dominion. This summer, if a magazine called "Canada—Vacations Unlimited" and the thousands of dollars spent on publicity do their work, even larger numbers of guests can be expected.

The magazine, a 50-page colorful booklet showing the Dominion's playgrounds and holiday facilities, has been issued by the federal government travel bureau under the supervision of its director, Leo Dolan.

Theme of the magazine is the Dominion's offer of "a welcome 4,000 miles long" from Atlantic to Pacific, from Maritime salmon streams to West Coast mountains.

On its pages are portrayed in unequalled beauty the colorful British Columbia flower gardens, Alberta mountain lakes and ranches, Saskatchewan's seas of waving wheat fields, Manitoba's inland fishing and untrammelled north country, Ontario's forest camping grounds, Quebec's historic sites and river cruises and the Maritime ocean beaches.

There is information on how to enter the Dominion, what things visitors can take back with them and where they can make hotel reservations.

Tourist bureau officials say inquiries from all parts of the world have been received. In March as many as 3,000 letters a day poured into the bureau's offices in the trade department here. Still more have been arriving at various provincial government tourist information services.

Sentence was suspended on Leonard Gabel when he appeared in city police court May 17 on a charge of failing to come to a stop at a stop sign in the city. He said he had been away from the city for several years and did not see the sign until too late.

Red Sox Show Improved Form by Hammering Out 5-1 Win Over Oroville

(By Courier Sports Writer)

OROVILLE—Showing much improved form on the defensive, and keeping up the heavy hitting pace set in the first two games, Kelowna Red Sox outthrew and outsmarted a game Oroville team Sunday and came home with a clever 5-1 win neatly tucked under their belts.

Gone were the flocks of fielding errors. In fact every chance that came along was well-handled. The only two errors charged against the Sox were bad throws to first base.

In winning his second straight game with no losses, Dick Zaccarelli added 10 more strikeouts to his already impressive credit, making 27 in all in two games. The Orchard City boys pounded out nine hits, making a total of 35 in their three games this season.

With the threat of rain hanging over them, the Sox went out to get the game wrapped up in the shortest possible time. Aaron Metz, chucker for Oroville, cooperated in the first inning to give the visitors two unearned runs.

Metz settled down after the initial inning and the Sox had to work for their other three runs. They scored one on three hits in the fourth, one on one hit in the fifth, and the last one in the ninth. Hank Tostenson, hitting three-for-four, got his third hit in the ninth and was brought home on Fred Kitch's timely three-bagger, the only extra base hit of the game.

Oroville got its sole counter in the first inning when Zaccarelli was nicked for two hits. Zaccarelli was hardly ever in trouble and when the going got a little rough, he bore down all the harder.

Appearing in uniform for the first time was Earl (Hoppy) Hoffman, who is expected to be an important addition to the hurling staff. He is a right-hander and played back in the Maritimes. Hoffman is slated for Sunday next.

LOCAL GAME HEADS NAMED ON EXECUTIVE

Annual Meeting of Interior Fish, Game Club Held at Salmon Arm

SALMON ARM—With 28 delegates, representing 14 clubs, and 30 visitors in attendance, the 17th annual two-day convention of the B. C. Interior Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association was a marked success.

W. E. Adams, of Kelowna, Ken Lucas, of Kamloops, and N. Schroeder, South Cariboo, were appointed as a finance committee. Named on the constitution committee were A. Blackie Kelowna, Mark Hulse, Penticton; Stuart C. Elliot, Salmon Arm; E. F. Smith, Oliver, and C. Tooley, Penticton.

The delegates were formally welcomed to Salmon Arm by A. E. "Bert" Wrightman, effervescent president of the Salmon Arm Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association. Later the delegates went fishing on Shuswap Lake, took in a trap shoot and attended a banquet at the drill hall on the closing night.

Dr. Z. C. Bennett, Salmon Arm, president of the Interior organization, gave a comprehensive review of the year's activities. He announced that owing to pressure of private business, he would retire, Dr. Bennett also referred to a number of matters of particular interest to sportsmen.

Secretary T. Gordon O'Neill presented the financial report and submitted a draft of the proposed constitution. He urged all affiliated clubs to renew their membership as early in the year as possible so that adequate arrangements could be made for the next annual convention.

Opening Game of Legal Mayhem Gets Underway at Park May 24 As Local Boxla Team Plays Vernon Oil up your tonsils, folks—with anything you like! The opening game of legalized mayhem—box lacrosse to most of us—is just around the corner! May 24, to be exact!

With an ever-increasing faster tempo, the leather-thonged stick boys of the Kelowna entry in the Interior Lacrosse Association have been knocking themselves into shape. Main objective is to hold on to the Okanagan Valley title they whipped up last year.

Five teams are competing in the loop this year—last year there were only three—and the first to stick out its well-padded heads to the local squad is the arch-rival of them all, Vernon.

May 24 this year, as in the past, is Gyro Day. So the lacrosse game will be part of the Gyro's huge day of sports and activities at City Park.

About 20 to 25 young men, hard and rugged, but fast and deadly, have been turning out to the practices over the past few weeks. Here are some of the heavies who have survived the sifting process of Max Berard. (Max was also the coach for the champs last year.)

Newcomers in the tryouts up to now are: Alf Ramonit, Larry Neid, and Frank Cassaro. Another man not seen in boxla wars for some years but back again after a spell in another kind of fighting, is Art Gillard. Big Herb Capozzi, everybody's favorite gentleman of the

CLUB 13 WINS LOOP OPENER

Softball for the junior boys in the Kelowna Softball League opened up Friday evening with the Club 13 boys registering a decisive 10-6 win in their opener against Junior High School.

Next game in the junior division will see the Thirteeners going after their second win in a row when they take on the Knights of Pythias' squad in the latter's seasonal opener at City Park on Friday night.

At the other end of the park last Friday, the Knights of Columbus midget boys got their first win of the season when they came from behind to defeat Glenmore 8-6. A six-run splurge in the fifth inning spelled doom for the Glenmore lads, who were making their first appearance in a league game this year. In their only other appearance, the K. of C. lost out to the Junior High School squad a week ago.

Umpire Fraser Gets Axe; Decisions Irk Players

by A. D.

A colorful figure in baseball circles late last season and early this season will not be seen in an official capacity at the ball park any longer this year. Umpire Bud Fraser got the axe!

Bud was officially relieved of his duties as boss of the diamond following a lively meeting Tuesday of the Kelowna Baseball Club executive. Those in favor of his release said the players were dissatisfied with his rulings and threatened to quit unless Fraser was ousted.

Others on the executive thought he handled the games so far in an efficient manner. But with unity in the Red Sox camp apparently at stake, they agreed to Fraser's dismissal.

Fraser declined to make any official statement. He said simply: "That's fine with me."

Too Strict, They Said
Players were reported to have complained Fraser was too strict and was at fault in many of his decisions. Fans, while admitting Bud was stern and strong on discipline, believed he added color to the games and was a good drawing card at any time.

Fraser, who piloted the Kelowna Kodiaks to the Interior midget hockey championship last year, came to Kelowna last July. He spent many years as umpire in fairly big time back east and tried to put Kelowna baseball on a par with the big cities.

He umpired a few games last year and, as in the lot of many umpires, he stepped on the toes of many on last year's squads. When it came time this year to select an umpire, the club executive gave it much thought and decided on Fraser, though he had not applied for the post.

Fraser came to a head in the opening game here a week ago Sunday. In the vital seventh inning against Brewster, O'Shaughnessy
